LANSING, Mich.

Andy Anuzis has joined the Michigan Chamber of Commerce as Executive Director of Issue Advocacy. In his new role, Anuzis will implement a comprehensive issue advocacy campaign dealing with Michigan's business climate. He will supervise fundraising, conduct research and implement the advertising and grassroots strategies needed to convey pro- business messages to Michigan residents. He will have no responsibilities related to lobbying.

Anuzis came to the Michigan Chamber from Associated Builders and Contractors of Michigan, where he served as Executive Vice President since 1993. Prior to joining Associated Builders and Contractors, Anuzis served as Director of the Senate Majority Communications Office. Anuzis holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan - Dearborn.

"We are very pleased to have Andy join the staff of the Michigan Chamber," said Michigan Chamber President & CEO Jim Barrett. "His experience and enthusiasm will further strengthen and improve our issue advocacy program."

The Michigan Chamber is a statewide business organization representing approximately 7,000 employers, trade associations and local chambers of commerce. The Michigan Chamber was established in 1959 to be an advocate for Michigan's job providers in the legislative, political and legal process.
